Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 11, 12, 15, 17, 18, 21 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Veriter (French patent 1,268,271). Veriter teaches a tent (Fig. 4) with walls (4) and extendable windows. The windows each include a frame (a; see Attachment A) that borders a portion of a screen (6) and an awning (7,71,72), which extends from the frame/walls. The windows also include a lower attachment seam (b; see Attachment A). The walls are oriented at a first angle while the windows are extendable to a second smaller angle; the windows in their extended positions are substantially vertical and increase the usable space inside the tent (see translation).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 23, 24 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Veriter (French patent 1,268,271) in view of Zheng. As stated above, Veriter teaches the limitations of claims 1, 12 and 15, including a tent with an extendable window. For claims 23, 24 and 27, Veriter fails to teach that the window includes a flap. Zheng teaches a tent (Fig. 7) with a window flap. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the tent of Veriter by adding a window flap on the window screen, such as is taught by Zheng, to provide a means to close/cover the screen, preventing air, rain, etc from entering the tent.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 13, 14, 16, 19, 20, 22, 25, 26, 28 and 30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. (Note: the tent/frame of the reference of Veriter is designed so that poles/sleeves are specifically not needed (see pages 1 and 2 of the translation); therefore, although several references, such as Zheng, teach this frame/sleeve/ window construction, to combine one of these references with the tent frame of Veriter has been deemed a "backward step", since Veriter clearly does not envision this type of framing for his windows.)

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
